Town offers help to recycling project

Elk Point Town Council staved off a disruption in the well used paper recycling project of the Elk Point Lioness Club and Elk Point Scouting Association at Monday night's meeting, when they voted to offer the groups a means of transporting the bundled paper to Two Hills for collection.

The groups had feared they would have to put their project on hold for the time being, after being told by the Two Hills Lions Club that they would no longer be able to come to Elk Point to empty the bins, due to high transportation costs which are not offset by the money received when the paper is sold in Edmonton. However, the Lions said they would still take the paper if it were brought to their Two Hills site.

Council agreed to use the Town's gravel truck to haul the papers collected in the bins to Two Hills when required during the next four weeks, while the Lioness Club and Scouting Association try to find alternate means of transport. There is a possibility that a grant might be available to finance the purchase of a trailer to haul the papers in, and this information will be passed on to the groups.

In discussions prior to the decision to help the project carry on, Councillor Allan Frankiw noted that to do so "prolongs the life of our landfill—it's in our best interests." Mayor Bruce Kleeberger added that the move would "provide continuity" to this worthy project.

Council spent a good portion of Monday's meeting awash in discussions of two sources of water: a well for the Recreation Land and pumping equipment for future filling of the reservoir. With the fall pumping close to completion, Council is looking ahead to spring, by putting consideration of financing the purchase of pumps and pipe for the twice-annual repletion of municipal raw water supplies, into the 1991 budget. A government grant under the Water and Sewer Program may be available, with the Town's 50 percent available from the expected 1990 water and sewer department surplus and from reserves. First, however, the Town is looking into the possibility of renting pipe, and waiting to obtain a licence for future withdrawal of water from the river.

Conventional means of finding water on the Recreational Land have failed, so the Town has tur-

Flu vaccine program

For most healthy individuals, catching the "flu" just means spending a few days at home resting and recovering. However, for the elderly and for persons who have a chronic illness, the added problem of influenza could result in serious complications. The "flu" is an infection of the respiratory system which may cause symptoms such as: fever, chills, headache and muscular pain.

Again this year, the North Eastern Alberta Health Unit will be offering a "flu" vaccine program as a preventative measure. Community health nurses will administer vaccine to anyone over 65 or to individuals who are under 65 and suffer from a chronic illness. Those under 65 must obtain a prescription from their family doctor prior to receiving the vaccine.

Clinics will be held in the health unit office in Elk Point on Friday, October 19 from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m., and Monday, October 22 from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. No appointment is necessary to attend these clinics.

For further information call Lois Sheplaw at 724-3532.

Community services news

Wellness for Women Workshop

The Wellness for Women Workshop scheduled for October 20 and 21 has been cancelled due to insufficient registration. However, this workshop will be offered in the spring again and hopefully it will have more registrants. Anyone who is interested in this workshop should watch for information due to come out during late winter. The Community Services Department is interested in developing and offering a series of personal development and well-being programs such as this Wellness for Women Workshop. We would appreciate any suggestions that people might have for possible programs that could be offered in the future.

Adult Volleyball League

Community Services is assisting in the organization of an Adult Volleyball League for Elk Point and District. The league will be starting up on October 19. Mixed teams of 8 or more players can register by phoning 724-3800. Individuals not on a team can phone and they will be put on one. The league will meet every Friday and there will be a tournament at the end of the season.

ned to an old and trusted method—the talent of “witching” a well. Local resident Carl Heinemann has a 90 percent accuracy at finding water, and can also tell how far down the precious liquid will be found. On a recent visit to the Rec Land, Heinemann has indicated the location of a sizeable underground stream running on a southeast-northwest direction, at a depth he estimates between 187 and 195 feet. Two locations for test holes were determined, which would be accessible to serve the golf clubhouse, ball diamond concessions, picnic shelter and campground. A grant from Recreation, Parks and Wildlife and a portion of the Municipal Recreation Tourism Areas grant have been earmarked for provision of water at the site, so Council agreed to go ahead with one, or if necessary, two test holes, and if water is found in adequate amounts at one of these, to develop the resulting well.

Other business coming before Council included the approval of a draft Vision Statement for the Town, which “recognizes the role of rural values in the past” while looking into the 21st century, and approval of a more concise, updated policy manual for operation of the Community Services Centre.

Town Council ratified the appointment of two new members to the Elk Point Municipal Library Board. Applications were received from Denise Amyotte and Pat Vincent, who will fill two of the five vacant seats on the Board.

One tender was received for Minister's Council on Local Development, and agreed that Administrator Pat Vincent and Councillor Charlie Mahon should the used JCB loader backhoe, and was accepted.

Elk Point, Alberta, recognizing that rural values have played a unique role in Canada's past, desires to sustain and nurture a small town flavour where people help each other, where citizens can feel security and personal safety, where children can play safely, where everyone can feel good about their town, their neighbours, and themselves, where the environment is respected.

We will create a community where there is tolerance, respect for personal growth, an atmosphere for responsible economic expansion, and an openness for the changing trends of the future.

Elk Point will be an attractive, viable alternative to the empty anonymity of large urban centres.

attend the upcoming Public Feedback forum on November 1 at Smoky Lake, to offer comments.

Council was told that the Community Services Building Committee will meet tonight to hand over the reins from the original 4-member group to the new group consisting of representatives of numerous local organizations, who will plan toward obtaining the funds necessary to construct a new Centre.

The Bicentennial Subcommittee has had a tremendous response to correspondence they have sent out to other communities in the area, including suggestion of a canoe-in joint council meeting with the Town of Lac La Biche and a pumpkin growing challenge sent by Smoky Lake. Further developments will be announced next week, regarding last night's meeting of that group.

Problems with untidy users of the landfill seem to have been overcome. Mayor Kleeberger noted that he has visited the site on several occasions, and found it tidy and well kept, with tires and containers placed in their specified areas, no debris scattered about and nothing on fire. “The citizens have responded well, and I'm very pleased,” he said.

The Elks Lodge, which donated funding for upgrading of the North Hill Ball Diamond, was given the go-ahead to put up signage indicating the part they have played in this, if they desire to do so.

Trick and treating hours for the 1990 Halloweeners will be from 4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. on October 31.

Councillor Adele Mandryk and Administrator Pat Vincent were authorized to attend the Northern Alberta Development Council's Northern Perspectives Conference, November 21-23 in Grande Prairie as the Town's representatives. Vicki Brooker will represent the Chamber of Commerce at that conference.

Council ended their meeting with a brief discussion of the municipal corporate review, and with a report by Pat Vincent on the Local Government Administrators' Association fall meeting.

Playground fund-raising underway

By Darlene Kozicky

The Elk Point Community Playground Project is a subcommittee of the Education Support Council working with Elk Point Elementary School. Since the school is undergoing an addition at present, the playground committee was formed to re-vamp the playground for the school and community as a whole.

The playground committee is working with consultants from Alberta Recreation and Parks on a base plan at the present time. When the draft is finalized, we will be publishing it. In the design plans this far, are unique play areas for the school population of 373 children, ages 4 to 11, attending Elk Point Elementary School, and for the many people from the district who enjoy the playground. We plan to have creative play structures, asphalt game areas, an outdoor education centre, new fencing, quiet areas, upgrading of ball diamonds (one possibly shaled for an all weather diamond), landscaping completed and trees planted. A play area for us all to be proud of! Our projected cost of this base plan is approximately $50,000.

Fundraising by the playground committee started in September and will continue throughout the year. We hope to have some play areas ready in the spring of 1991. We are pleased with the response so far from the school population, private individuals and organizations toward our fundraising. A “goal board” will be erected at the school in the near future so we can gauge our progress toward our goal. Thanks to everyone working together as a community, we will achieve a playground to enjoy for many years.

BPOE Donates To Playground

Elk Point Community Playground Project is grateful for the generous donation to their project presented by Lawrence Pidluzny on behalf of the Elk Point BPOE Lodge No. 460 to Playground Committee representative Darlene Kozicky. Their substantial support is a big boost toward our goal and the committee members are thrilled to have this support from this local organization. Thank you!

In Our View

An unbalanced diet

Yesterday was World Food Day, when we were urged to boycott foods that contribute to deforestation, soil erosion, chemical contamination, industrial pollution and species extinction, not to mention any food products produced by exploited labor.

Pardon me, but that doesn't leave us a whole lot to enjoy at the table, does it?

Just think about it a minute. What did you have for lunch? A tuna sandwich and some chocolate cookies? Well, you can't do that. That tuna may have been caught at the cost of some dolphin's life (or it could even BE a dolphin—how do you know it isn't?), while the cultivation necessary to grow the wheat for the bread will cause soil erosion. The cookies also contain grain, plus cocoa (probably grown by exploited labor), and are packaged in a paper bag for which a tree gave up its life.

Did that make you lose your appetite?

No? Well, how about supper tonight. What are you having?

The potatoes and carrots are your own, home grown, no chemicals, no energy except your own wasted in their production. They're OK. But there's that steak. What would K. D. Lang say about that? Even if you don't give a hoot about the animal rights, think of the methane that critter produced—it's up there burning a hole in the ozone right now.

But wait—nobody has said anything at all about one sector whose rights are continually violated, and which is certainly made up of exploited labor, if anything is: the Canadian prairie farmer, for whom 50 cent oats and dollar wheat won't even pay the bills for the fertilizer to pollute his soil and the diesel fuel to pollute his air, let alone the long hours of labor he took to get that grain grown, so the rest of the world can have their daily bread.

Think about that, those of you who worry about an 'ecologically sustainable and socially just food system.' And Bon Appetit.

Pulpit perspectives

By Pastor Jim MacLellan
Elk Point Baptist Church

Pastor Jim answers your questions from a Biblical viewpoint. We reserve the right to select and edit published letters. Send your question to: Box 298, Elk Point, AB. T0A 1A0.

Dear Pastor: My wife and I just lucked in! We have been able to buy our dream ... a Tea House in the Maritimes. The problem is my mother. She's all alone. She won't come with us; and she won't move into an extended-care residence. We don't want her to live alone. There's no other family around. Can you give us some advice?

Dear Friend: First of all, congratulations! We all enjoy seeing our hopes take shape, don't we? You and your wife are in an enviable position. Your mother is the one all alone, with little or no control of her life. She is now watching you follow your rainbow. The only thing she has that she really values, is her decision-making rights ... her independence. I encourage you to respect that.

I assume she is in fair health; and has been looking after herself up to now.

The Bible says, "Do not despise your mother when she is older." (Proverbs 23:22). The context is INSTRUCTION! In other words, "Just because she's older don't reject her ability to advise you." SHE IS STILL YOUR MOTHER. The Bible places no age restriction on the Divine imperative to "honor our parents." The word 'despise' in the Bible is used the same way as we think of "contempt of court." Be careful that your desires are not in contempt of your mother's!

The time may come when because of health or circumstance, there'll need to be a role reversal. You will have to balance the trauma of the institution; with the danger of inadequate care. It doesn't appear to me that that time has come yet.

Perhaps you can arrange for friends to drop in more often, when you're gone. Most clergymen would be pleased to visit your mother regularly. I'm sure she'll be fine. Her independence is extremely important now. Try to honor that.

Canoeist's Heaven!

Kehewin Lake is small enough to be safe for canoeing, and, as on the day we paddled over it, often well-decked with ducks and other water birds. I. Magnusson

Alberta Trails

"Soft is the Song . . ."

By Irene Magnusson

Had a wonderful invitation a few weeks ago: "Come for a canoe ride!" And just like that, a long-held dream comes true.

Of course I went. Up to Kehewin Lake, into the life jacket, into the canoe, onto the water. A lovely, light-windy, blue-sky, gold-leaved autumn day. Why wasn't the whole world out on that gray water, floating, rowing, savoring the beautiful day?

It's been many years since I wafted over the water in a canoe. Oh, we had a boat, boats, in fact, all of them just great to bounce over the waves in, but none gives quite the thrill of a canoe. For one thing, you tend to hang low to the floor, if it can be called that, of a canoe. You seem to know you'll end up head first in the lake if you don't. Then it's a kindness to try to synchronize your paddle swing to that of the other occupant of said canoe, a courtesy born of the same necessity, that of keeping out of the drink.

I have never fallen out of, nor tipped over in a canoe, but I KNOW very well the results, should it happen. Panic city.

The canoe my friends so kindly invited me to share was probably made of fiberglass or plastic, or some such synthetic material. Maybe I'll learn it was made of plywood or aluminum. Whatever, it was NOT made of the same stuff as the first canoe I ever rode in.

Canoes have been known to mankind for a very long time, much longer a time than we have accurate records of. Still, we know that South Sea explorers, long before Columbus and others of his ilk burst into their space, were wandering around from island to island, staking their claims, in vessels we might call canoes. Since these early adventurers were out facing the bounding main, skitting across lagoons and dodging breakers, they needed a lot of stabilizing to their canoes. They invented the outriggers, and catamarans, a popular racing canoe even today. The outriggers of old were probably gouged-out logs, with another floating log off to the side, attached with smaller logs (tied on with vines?). And some of these were quite large, holding a whole raft of warriors.

No one says they NEVER tipped over, but certainly the outrigger attachment made them more stable in the ocean waves.

The catamaran, which features double hulls, was adapted by the latecomers to the islands, and has developed into a formidable racing vessel.

The canoes of the Americas, as we know them, were evolved by the Indians and Eskimos, and readily adapted by the white adventurers when they came along. No doubt the first ones were made of hollowed logs. Hollowed how? Perhaps by nature, to start: a lightning split, worm hollowed? Who knows? Then when man discovered fire, perhaps they were burned out; hollowed laboriously by stone axes; and finally with steel blades.

Used mostly on streams and rivers, where occasional portages had to be made, the lighter, more manageable birchbark canoe came into its own.

These were the ones first encountered by the English and French, when they came a-conquering, and it didn't take them long to adopt these lightweight, easy to maneuver canoes to their own purposes.

Besides, they were fun to use. They offered a challenge (as well as being used for transporting goods), for racing, and daredevilry. Remember this one:

All peacefully gliding,
The waters dividing,
The indolent bateau moved slowly along,
The rowers, light-hearted,
From sorrows long-parted
Beguiled the dull moments with laughter and song;
"Hurrah for the rapids, that merrily, merrily
Gambols and leaps on its treacherous way!
Soon we shall enter it, cheerily, cheerily,
Rocked by its laughter, wet be its spray!"

They recklessly raced into the rapids, with their paddles swinging, hit a rock and were drowned. (I knew this from about grade five.)

A canoeist should respect the force of the water over which he glides. That's why life jackets were invented.

The Natives of the northern parts evolved their water transport in a different fashion. Eskimos (or should I say Inuit?) had that deep cold to contend with, and who would relish a dunking in subfreezing water? So they (my guess only) made their canoes, which they called kayaks, with lids on them. A hold in the centre of the lid lets the kayaker put his lower body under the cover, while his head (for seeing), arms (for paddling), and torso (to hold the rest of him together), stay above the cover. Unless that kayak tips over. In this event, he has pulled a drawstring tight around his waist; this keeps the water out and some air down underneath, so he won't sink, and hopefully he will be able to right the kayak and go on about his seal-spearing activities.

Canoes are used extensively today for pleasure, racing being the biggest thrill, and are made of many materials, few having much resemblance to the deerhide, birchbark, or hollowed log canoes of old.

The first acquaintance I had with a canoe was the summer after we were married, 1934, when Cliff made a canoe. This was mid-Depression, neither of us had jobs, except the small farm, the few livestock, garden, and berry-picking activities, so he decided to make a canoe.

The thing was about 14 feet long and was easily carried between us. He could, in fact, carry it alone. I couldn't. So, with no money for materials, little equipment, only time and his own ingenuity, he made a canoe.

The sides were long poles, skinned and bent to shape, the keel the same. Ribs were green willows, skinned and bent. Over this we stretched and sewed a layer of old sacks, patched where needed. From down in the cellar, he found a couple of gallon cans of very old paint, partly used, but thick and sticky under the top skin.

This we applied, a couple of layers, then over this he put flour sacks, sewed together to shape, and more paint. The paint was a nice sky-blue. Around the top edge went another bentwood, to hold the willow ribs securely. A board to kneel on was added, and we took little cushions, too. Next came the paddles, again hand-hewn from scrap wood, polished and sanded smooth.

I helped where I could, but claim no fame for it. It was entirely Cliff's baby. At last the launching day came. We carried it down to the little (then) lake (now, a mudhole) called Hobden Lake, put it in the water and paddled off. The only other place we used it, as I recall, was Cook Lake, at Armistice, a few times. In its second year we left it at the lake, between usage, and some horses or cattle came and stomped the bottom out of it. But I still remember the joy of gliding over the water, and how "Soft is the song my paddle sings..."

Ukrainian dancers plan busy year

The Elk Point and District Ukrainian Dance Club has a very busy year ahead. Lessons commenced Tuesday, September 18 with Ken Rylance and Debbie Kachmar as teachers. The club has a membership of 58 student dancers and 13 adults.

Upcoming events for the club include a bake sale in December, where pyrogies and cabbage rolls will be sold. Watch for posters and newspaper ads announcing date, time and place. Our next bingo will be held at the Club Bingo Hall across the tracks in St. Paul on October 20 at 11:00 a.m.

Summer activities for the group included performances at the Vegreville Pysanka Festival, Klondike Days and the Penticton Square Dance Festival. At Vegreville, the Senior group doing the Hopak was rewarded with a silver medal and the duet of Sheldon Porcina and Steven Bayduza won a bronze medal. The Senior group performed by themselves and also with the St. Paul Ukrainian Dancers at Penticton. Also performing at Penticton was the duet of Tommy Bayduza and Leslie Hillebrand. Both evenings there ended with a standing ovation for the Ukrainian Dancers.

The new slate of officers for the 1990-91 term is as follows: President-Loris Kozina, Vice President-Sharon Jaremko, Secretary-Barb Croteau, Treasurer-Gabrielle Bayduza.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 30 at 6 p.m. in the Community Services Building.

All groups have already started learning new dances to perform locally and out of town. Anyone wanting a group or groups to perform may call Loris at 724-2516.

Latest Fall Hat Styles?

Elk Point and District

Further education news

By Gladys Drobot
Coordinator

Further Ed courses have started up for the fall season. Thursday, September 27 had Joanne Helm of Calgary at the high school here in Elk Point in the morning and at Heinsburg in the afternoon. Joanne gave these two groups many innovative ideas for power learning and more effective studying.

WHEAT WEAVING started yesterday with ten registrants and I am sure they are having an enjoyable three evenings. Unfortunately, HARDANGER had to be cancelled because of insufficient numbers. If you are interested, please try to find more people and I'm sure we can try again.

October 25 will be the opening night for OIL PAINTING. If we get two more people we may have to break this group up into two groups. Cost is $30, payable by October 18.

November 5 is going to be a very busy day at the Further Ed Centre. From 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. we have an Alberta Agriculture sponsored session on POST WEANING MANAGEMENT OF CALVES. There is no charge but you must register. Your speakers are Barry Yaremco, Edmonton, Pat Ramsey, Vermilion, and Dr. Don Ronaghan, St. Paul. This course has a registration deadline of October 29 but we would prefer to have you register earlier so that the instructors can be given more time.

The evening of the 5th will be the first of three, 3 hour sessions in MACHINE QUILTING. An introductory one hour session will be held at the Flanders residence on October 29 from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m. Verona Lea will tell you then what is needed for supplies. Deadline for registration is October 30.

INFANT/CHILD FIRST AID AND CPR for residents of Ferguson Flats will be held on November 12, 13, 19 and 20 from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. at a cost of $12.50. Location will be announced later. Please register by November 5.

SOAP MAKING (maximum of 8 only!!!) goes on Wednesdays, November 14, 21, 28 and December 5 at the F. G. Miller High School Home Ec Room from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. Fees are $15 plus materials. This is a very popular course so register early and avoid disappointment. Deadline for registration is November 7.

Saturday, November 17 and Sunday, November 18, learn to DANCE CANADIAN COUNTRY with E. J. Foley from Edmonton. This course will go from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m. on Saturday and 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Sunday (1 hr. lunch). Fees are $25.00 each. We need a minimum of 20 couples or a maximum of 25. Deadline for this course is November 8.

Other courses coming before Christmas are Christmas Calligraphy, Christmas Crafts With Evelyn, Creative Gift Wrapping, Farm Shelterbelts and Infant/Child First Aid and CPR.

I have had a request for daytime aerobics for young mothers with a possible babysitting service. Is there enough interest?

Please remember to pay your fees as soon as possible. A phone call means you are interested. A cheque in the mail or delivered to the office means you are registered. If you are interested in more than one course and find there is a conflict of dates, please call and we will see what can be done.

We are now looking for ideas for after Christmas courses. Please phone in your suggestions. I would also appreciate a list of names as well.

Office Hours: Tuesdays 1:00 to 7:00 p.m.; Wednesdays 1:00 to 5:00 p.m.; Thursdays 1:00 to 7:00 p.m. Phone 724-4101.

Out our way

By Mildred Dunham

Even the mad rush of harvest on September 29 didn't stop the ladies of Ferguson Flats and district from attending a bridal shower in honor of Donna Brooker, future bride of Orin Ockerman. It was quite a nice turnout for a small community and a fun evening.

The first game was a guessing game. Clues were taken from pictures to try to guess where the couple would spend their honeymoon. Most of the ladies guessed, but the clues were quite clear.

Then a game similar to musical chairs was played, where hats were passed in the circle. If you were caught with a hat when the music stopped, you got to model the hat for the rest of the evening. This brought a lot of giggles and laughs from the others, especially when Donna got to model "her" hat.

The evening closed with a good lunch and Donna opened a wide variety of nice gifts. Everyone went home in good humor, anticipating the coming wedding.

A Clean Air Strategy for Alberta:

It's helping to clear the air

The effect of energy-related emissions on the environment is a matter of provincial, national and international concern.

With world use of fossil fuels growing by three per cent every year, energy producers and consumers are faced with the challenge of resolving related air quality issues without damaging economies or living standards.

As the largest producer of fossil fuels in the country, our province is the major supplier of Canada's energy needs. And in helping to meet our nation's energy needs, Alberta's emissions are among the highest in Canada - although Alberta and Canada together contribute only a small portion of the total emissions worldwide.

The Alberta government recognizes the need for action since any future reduction in emissions will likely have significant implications for our economy and the lifestyle we enjoy.

That's why Alberta Energy and Alberta Environment are working together to develop a Clean Air Strategy for Alberta.

Through public consultation, the Clean Air Strategy will work to identify the most important issues and offer some practical and achievable solutions. The strategy complements several major air quality initiatives already in progress - and reflects Alberta's concern not only for our own environment but for that of our neighbours.

To ensure that all viewpoints are heard, Regional Sessions - which include both an Open House and an opportunity for public input - will be held in:

- ▲ Bonnyville, Tuesday, November 6
- ▲ Fort McMurray, Thursday, November 8
- ▲ Peace River, Tuesday, November 13
- ▲ Edmonton, Friday, November 16
- ▲ Pincher Creek, Monday, November 26
- ▲ Medicine Hat, Wednesday, November 28
- ▲ Calgary, Wednesday, December 5
- ▲ Red Deer, Thursday, December 6.

The times and locations will be advertised in local newspapers.

These meetings, which you are invited to attend, will provide an opportunity to learn more about the Clean Air Strategy for Alberta, to ask questions, and to present your views. Written briefs may also be submitted directly to the address listed below.

It's a chance for you to help us clear the air.

Senior girls volleyball team looking toward an exciting year

By Joely Jenner
Coach

This year's Senior High Girls Volleyball Team is looking forward to a very exciting year. We have a combination of all grades ranging from ten to twelve who come out and do their best.

This year the girls have been displaying great teamwork with the older, more experienced girls helping out the younger ones who have just moved up into high school. This has enabled us not only to be competitive, but to also have a lot of fun.

The girls hope to attend a few tournaments along with the weekly league games. Last week in league play the girls came up short against Saddle Lake, but came back to take two games from Onion Lake. In this past weekend's tournament at Two Hills, we placed fourth out of 8 teams.

The girls would like to extend an invitation to those interested in a night of some good action entertainment to come and cheer us on. Hope to see you out!

Elk Point senior boys' volleyball

By Jim Tilton
Coach

This was a great weekend for the Elk Point Senior Boys volleyball team, who attended their first tournament of the season in Two Hills and came home with third place medals from the eight team meet as a reward for their efforts.

In league play Wednesday, the boys got rolling after giving up their first two games of a three game match with Saddle Lake. Elk Point won the third game and went on to beat Onion Lake two out of three games. The Elk Point team members are beginning to excel at their positions, and it's making for some exciting rallies.

Next match is tonight at 4:15 and 6:45 at the F. G. Miller Gym. Come on out and bring your voice!

Pioneer Circle ponders hall repairs, pie bingo

By Irene Magnusson

A good turnout of members showed up for the October 9 general membership meeting of Elk Point's senior citizens. Chairman Morris Cooper being absent, Vice Chairman Dan Demchuk chaired the meeting. Minutes were dealt with, following reading of these by secretary Grace Barwick. A report of the "garage sale" held in September was given, showing a good return of well over $ 600 for the two day effort.

Treasurer Olga Ruszycki read a financial report, all being in good shape. Funds have been received to pay Campsite workers, and this will soon be closed off for the season.

More rules have been received re:

the use of Bingo proceeds, these will be looked into. Only 10 percent of bingo 'take' can be used for expenses, it was pointed out.

Phyllis Zarowny reported on the Monday night bingos, going well. There was almost nothing she could say regarding the Building Committee as there is little they can do at this time. The grant received will remain in the seniors' hands for one more year, during which time hopefully something will be decided on, either building or remodelling.

Correspondence included a request for a report of finances and officials, from the Department of Public Affairs, a report of the Seniors' Games and current activities, notice of the 1992 Bicentennial celebrations, from the Town of Elk Point, a thank you from the ACA for the use of the hall for the Fall Conference, a receipt from F. G. Miller High School re: the $ 35 scholarship award, and literature on motor coach cruise and bus tours.

Other items proclaimed Arthritis Month, copies of the ACA news and news of Alberta Seniors' Games.

A discussion was held on the need for repairs to the Centre's roof, which is leaking, and to the back steps, which are rotten. A motion to inquire into costs of these repairs was carried, with some comment on the waste of repairing a building which may have to be replaced. However, there was very little encouragement that a new building was in the offing in the near future, and the consensus seemed to be that the group should look after what they have.

Dan Demchuk volunteered to fix the back steps, with assistance from a couple of other members, plus cost of repair materials. He also suggested that an application be made to have the group apply for an income tax deductible number, since part of their income is given to charity. This might lead to grants and donations from some other sources, such as oil companies, etc. This was agreed to.

Names were gathered for those interested in Floor Curling; Helga Vaughan suggested a "just for fun" evening or afternoon, with a 'pie bingo.' This met with enthusiasm, and October 23 was selected as a suitable day to have this. A list of 'pie donors' was drawn up, and 2 p.m. set as the time.

A suggestion was heard, to have the meeting dates set in the Lions' Calendar, as this would save the frustration of calling so many members, only to find them not in, a comment made by a member of the phoning committee.

United Church women

By Irene Miller

The regular meeting of United Church Women was held on Wednesday, October 3rd in the church hall with Grace Barwick and Lena Stepa as hostesses. The Devotional given by the hostesses followed a Thanksgiving theme.

Acting-President was Muriel Holthe. The correspondence included a letter from St. Paul Presbyterial telling the ladies about a retreat entitled "Things That Endure: Love, Faith and Hope", to be held at Rundle Mission. The ladies decided to order Heritage Books again this year.

The Treasurer's report showed that our Rummage Store has been doing well. The last sale to be held this year is on October 26th. Does your little goblin need a Halloween costume? There are suitable articles of clothing at the store, if one needs to make a costume.

Grace Barwick reported that stamps and eye glasses are accumulating again, and there will soon be enough to send away. Margaret Rae reported that she has the Travelling Basket and it will soon be sent on.

Under new business, the Acting-President reported that a pot luck dinner will be held after church on Sunday, October 21st. The Finance Committee of the Church tells us that it is to be a fund-raiser. Come, bring a friend, bring some food and enjoy the fellowship.

There is to be a yard sale in the church hall on Friday, October 26th from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. There will be lunch served during the sale (hot dogs, coffee, etc.). Muriel Holthe will form a committee to look after this. The ladies were asked to bring food for the home bake table. As well, people were asked to bring vegetables for the produce table.

It was decided to hold our Annual Tea, Bake Sale and Bazaar on Saturday, November 24th from 2:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Committees were set up to look after the various tables.

The meeting was adjourned and a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

Cemetery meeting

The Annual Meeting for the members of Willow Range Cemetery will be held on Sunday, October 21 at 1:00 p.m. at the Empress Dining Lounge, Elk Point. Members please attend.

Lioness environment tip of the week

Most of us think of recycling as returning bottles, cans, paper and other items to a depot that transports goods to a processing plant for crushing and manufacturing. Reusing the same items in the home by finding a second use for them is another way of recycling.

Glass containers with lids are excellent containers for bulk foods. Flour, sugar, raisins, pasta, spices, teas and crackers remain airtight and visible for your convenience. Mustard and jam jars will likely hold the entire contents of one bulk package of your favorite spice and your gourmet pals might just get a kick out of their own personalized spice collection in matching jars with hand-written labels.

Anything we bring into our homes can have more than one use, just ask your kids! You know, the ones who use soup cans for building blocks instead of the nice expensive ones they got for Christmas, and fight with the dog for the empty toilet roll. It wasn't just necessity which mothered invention, it was Mother Nature's crowded backyard.

THE ENERGY OF OUR RESOURCES

THE POWER OF OUR IDEAS

STARSCOPE

By Eileen Norby

It's your time Libra (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) To approach a relationship in any way, no matter what sign of the Zodiac you call your own, is to be a Libran, because to the astrologer the meaning of the word "Libra" and the meaning of the "relationship" are almost the same thing. When anyone enters a relationship of any kind he is rising the power of Libra. Everyone has the whole Zodiac in them somewhere, and when they do this or that in their lives they use this or that part of it. Whenever there is a relationship of any kind formed, on any level whatsoever, their Libran energies are at work. What makes you, as a Libran person, special is that for you the Sun was in the sign of Libra when you were born, and that has the affect of making that relationship-forming energy into the primary force in your existence; it runs through you, it makes you what you are, and it is inseparable from you as your height or the color of your eyes. You do not, then, approach relationships in a certain manner, you approach everything as if it were what other people see as a relationship! For you, there is no other way to be, it is the way that Librans see things. You are an Air Sign, and speech and the exchange of ideas, feelings are more important to you than touch, as a way of showing affection. You are the color pink and Romance with a capital "R". You love to talk and share. You need balance always.

ARIES

Mar. 21 - Apr. 19

Some people go to great extreme to attract attention. You have certainly done your share this last month, being very forceful, actually to the point of a bully. Sensitivities have been offended with outspoken words. Silence is golden when tempers heat up. Take care and control.

TAURUS

Apr. 20 - May 20

You've had an enjoyable holiday, despite a hitch here and there. A pleasant surprise can prompt a new outlook. Be tactful about arrangements for an occasion that needs another assistance. Who pays how much for what may be the problem. Social life flourishes.

GEMINI

May 21 - Jun. 20

Are your laughing up your sleeve

Gemini? No one wants to rehash old grievances, least of all you. You rather like your life the way it is now. You have a busy day and a social circuit at night. Sure does lift the spirits. You sure took a giant step. Your charisma helps.

CANCER

Jun. 22 - Jul. 22

Mixed trends show that if you don't look for perfection, you won't be disappointed. You have so many shared enjoyments, impromptu gatherings, delightful luncheons. You may want to rethink a few plans. Being part of a duo makes beautiful music, exploring new terrain is out. It's better to hit the sack early.

LEO

Jul. 23 - Aug. 22

Contradictory trends mildly favor your quest for business recognition, but guard against outside interference. A love attachment that faltered now revives. Your holiday was nice but mixed feelings weren't anticipated. Expect some tension around home. Plan to add to your laurels.

VIRGO

Aug. 23 - Sept. 22

All your efforts were rewarded. After the happy event, no one will blame you if you go into hiding for peace and quiet, sort of give your nerves a rest. You sail through your schedules in top form. The entire pace of your life has quickened. Be careful! Energies are on high.

LIBRA

Sept. 23 - Oct. 23

Mutual misunderstanding with a desire to dominate can cause friction. You'll need to be extra careful today. You and your mate need space; possibly a third party. Your best work is done in solitude. Seclusion helps you renew your energy and balance, to concentrate fully.

SCORPIO

Oct. 24 - Nov. 22

Still chasing that shining rainbow Scorpio! Be health wise, accent on rest and food. Don't become embroiled in a family feud. Avoid the defiance of an authority figure. Someone in the future will give you rock-solid security, and steer you successfully through the obstacle course of life.

SAGITTARIUS

Nov. 22 - Dec. 21

After a little rocky road at work, things improve. Your finances are perking along nicely. Enjoy an upswing in your life, money isn't one of them. Don't force issues, either your timing is bad or others are unpredictable. Avoid extravagance. Be flexible. You have a big headache coming.

CAPRICORN

Dec. 22 - Jan. 20

You'll get the picture soon enough; stop, look and listen. Your emotional elevator can zoom up fast and it can also crash you back to the basement. Relationship is iffy. You are no money tree. You may need to enlighten some little person to that affect. Today is similar to yesterday. You'll attract support.

AQUARIUS

Jan. 21 - Feb. 19

Suddenly your at 6's and 7's, why? You have depleted energy, gastric upsets, showdown with a employer, money-based arguments; this hasn't been enjoyable. Your always so confident. Where has your emotional flame gone? Call on your reserves-loosen those tight nerves with a bubble bath.

PISCES

Feb. 20 - Mar. 20

There is a lot of frenetic activity going on around you. Your day began well but the end is troublesome. Like topsyturvy, be flexible and plan accordingly. Written complaints are a pain. A few hurdles to overcome before you put ideas forward. The flickering embers of a lovely holiday die down.
